Train Derailed; Passengers Injured. Several passengers in the observation car of the Southern railway's northbound New York and New Orleans limited train 38 were cut by broken glass last night when the train was derailed near Pelham, N. C., according to a statement issued by the Southern's general offices here. No one was hurt seriously, the statement said. A broken rail was the cause of the accident.

Fears are felt for the recovery of Joseph Foley, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Foley, who was seriously burned while playing with matches in the kitchen of his home, at Baltimore,

The subject arose over an attack by Northeliffe papers on Sir John Simon, in consequence of a reply the latter recently made to a question in the house of commons, in which the home secretary intimated that utterances in the Times were quoted gleefully by newspapers in hostile countries and were proving harmful to the national interests. The Times insinuated that the whole matter was a conspiracy to injure the newspaper, and yesterday Sir John made a personal explanation to the commons, alleging and quoting instances to show how Harmsworth papers had put out "a constant stream of material of a depressing tendency which was eagerly seized upon by Germany."

ICE FORMS ON RIVER.

Some of the Smaller Streams Are Frozen Over.

Last night President Wilson was plain "Tommy" Wilson to fifty-nine members of the Princeton class of '79 he entertained at dinner at the White House. All business was forgotten in memories of the days gone by, and many incidents of college days were revived. Among those present were Cyrus McCormick, Cleveland H. Dodge and Robert Bridges.

The President received his classmates in the blue room, and later conducted them to the state dining room, where a table had been arranged in the shape of a horseshoe. No military or naval aids were present.

A number of informal addresses were made in response to toasts proposed by the President. Mr. Wilson was warmly congratulated on his coming marriage.

Frozen Over.

Ice was found on the river last night for the first time this season. It was not much ice, but it shows that the water in the river is becoming cold and needs but a fall of snow to chill it so that good heavy ice will form. This morning the Virginia shore above the bridges was covered with the ice that had formed and been blown ashore by the wind. None of it was much thicker than a sheet of paper.

All the streams in the vicinity of this city, including Four-mile run and Gravelly run, Virginia tributaries of the river, between here and Alexandria, were covered with thin ice. Even the running water portion of East-were covered with thin ice. Even the running water portion of Four-mile were covered with thin ice. Even the running water portion of Four-mile run was frozen over for the first time this fall. Some little ice is reported to have formed in the docks on the river front, but it disappeared early.
